Kuala Lumpur Convention Centre

The Kuala Lumpur Convention Centre, set to open in 2005, is a strategic location for business and leisure activities. Situated in the heart of the City of Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, it characterizes itself as “the place to do business, in a multi-cultural setting.”

The Centre offers a full range of business and public events facilities, having hosted over 250 events since 1981. With 251 and 153 delegates, the Centre is equipped to handle both large-scale exhibitions and smaller meetings. A 550-seat theatre in the main hall, 431-seat conference hall, and 250-seat lecture room provide ample space for all types of events.

The Centre also features an additional 3,000 square metre space that can be combined with the arena and foyers to create a total of 6,820 square metres of space. It incorporates tropical rainforests and golden beaches, offering endless sunshine and warm weather year-round. The Centre is located at the junction of Jalan Sultan Ismail and Jalan Sultan Ismail, providing excellent access to Malaysia’s capital city.

A strategic response to a changing world

AIPC President’s Message

Change is all around us. Everything from exchange rates to political climates, lands of choice to challenges that arise today. The immediate need for change is obvious. As AIPC, we are always considering how the changes we see now will affect our goals and priorities. To achieve the goals we have set out to achieve, we must be clear on how the changes affect our decision-making processes. As we move forward, we must consider the implications of each change. If we are to move forward, we must take the lessons learned from the changes and apply them to our decision-making processes.
