AIPC Welcomes New Members:

Arena and Convention Centre, Liverpool

With the aim to be one of the most customer-friendly venues in the UK, the Arena and Convention Centre Liverpool, Liverpool’s £46 million project for the city’s famous King Billy, was officially opened to the public on schedule to be in operation by January 2007 at the dusk of Liverpool’s year as Capital of Culture, and is one of the greatest examples of modern architecture around the world. It has been designed to provide 55,750 sq ft of flexible exhibition space ranging from 500 to 3,300 sq ft of 7,000 sq ft of exhibition space. This new visitor attraction will increase Liverpool’s earning potential by 15% and joining AIPC will help us to communicate this fact to a global marketplace.

“With the objective to establish Liverpool as a leading destination for leisure, conferences and tourism,” says AIPC’s Liverpool’s General Manager Jacques Rigo “Our centre is the architectural landmark in the Northern commercial and a whole new dimension to Liverpool’s business tourism. Liverpool has matured a long time for opening such venue while the Baluarte Congress Center and Auditorium of Navarra.

Baluarte Congress Center and Auditorium of Navarra

Located in Pamplona, a city famous worldwide for its July fiestas and joining AIPC will help us to communicate this fact to a global marketplace. “We believe we are Australia’s best destination for conferences and meetings,” says ACC Liverpool’s General Manager Carlos Luri, “and we take our role in the global marketplace with a confident, colourful and unique,” he said.

Adelaide Convention Centre

Adelaide Convention Centre is a multi-service facility that includes a premier exhibition centre, a world-class conference venue and a variety of high quality accommodation and amenities. The Centre has been designed to respond to constant changes in the way people are living and working. The ultimate test for these activities is in how well they adapt to and accommodate the changes in customer expectations to new technology — often within the same meeting or a conference. The Centre has received high praise from many of the most demanding customer bases, including the expenditure of more than £250,000 in developing a parallel session for building a second AIPC International Sales Summit. But that’s not all. We will shortly be hosting new AIPC program initiatives this year, with a greater level of detail on how members can get more involved in networking and updating content to be held at the annual conference day prior to the General Meeting. The website program offers benefits for AIPC members. Through our second AIPC International Sales Summit, we are testing the new criteria and forms by actually doing the work within their facilities.

Comings and Goings:

France: Jon C. Congres & Exhibition Centres Roberto Ruti has been appointed as President Centro das Congressos de Espanha Diego Garcia-Lopez Hesbo has been appointed President and CEO Palacio de Congresos de Navarra Mariana Esteban has been appointed Marketing Director

Italy: Lucio Zanetti has been appointed as President Comitato Congressi e Exhibizioni Roberto Negrini has been appointed as Director General

Japan: Masahiro Tanabe has been appointed President

Korea: Lee Kwang-Hee has been appointed General Manager

Graz 2007: Responding to Global Change:

The ultimate test for these activities is in how well they adapt to and accommodate the changes in customer expectations to new technology — often within the same meeting or conference. The Centre has received high praise from many of the most demanding customer bases, including the expenditure of more than £250,000 in developing a parallel session for building a second AIPC International Sales Summit. But that’s not all. We will shortly be hosting new AIPC program initiatives this year, with a greater level of detail on how members can get more involved in networking and updating content to be held at the annual conference day prior to the General Meeting. The website program offers benefits for AIPC members. Through our second AIPC International Sales Summit, we are testing the new criteria and forms by actually doing the work within their facilities.

To keep on top of our ever-changing world and adapt to the new AIPC International Sales Summit, we are testing the new criteria and forms by actually doing the work within their facilities.

Trying to Keep Up With Your Trade Media Contacts?

Communicating with the trade media, whether to simply update in any conference coverage of your facility, to更新 challenging questions, days three of your event should be set aside. One of the most effective tools for your media relations is a good, comprehensive, up-to-date media contacts list. AIPC’s media contacts team has a strong network of trade media contacts that we should be using. However, directories and internet listings are not the key source and forms by actually doing the work within their facilities.

Graz 2007: Responding to Global Change:

President’s Message

For anyone who hasn’t noticed, there are a lot of new AIPC activities underway these days — and that creates more opportunities for member participation everbefore! The ultimate test for these activities is in how well they adapt to and accommodate the changes in customer expectations to new technology — often within the same meeting or conference. The Centre has received high praise from many of the most demanding customer bases, including the expenditure of more than £250,000 in developing a parallel session for building a second AIPC International Sales Summit. But that’s not all. We will shortly be hosting new AIPC program initiatives this year, with a greater level of detail on how members can get more involved in networking and updating content to be held at the annual conference day prior to the General Meeting. The website program offers benefits for AIPC members. Through our second AIPC International Sales Summit, we are testing the new criteria and forms by actually doing the work within their facilities.

The ultimate test for these activities is in how well they adapt to and accommodate the changes in customer expectations to new technology — often within the same meeting or conference. The Centre has received high praise from many of the most demanding customer bases, including the expenditure of more than £250,000 in developing a parallel session for building a second AIPC International Sales Summit. But that’s not all. We will shortly be hosting new AIPC program initiatives this year, with a greater level of detail on how members can get more involved in networking and updating content to be held at the annual conference day prior to the General Meeting. The website program offers benefits for AIPC members. Through our second AIPC International Sales Summit, we are testing the new criteria and forms by actually doing the work within their facilities.

To keep on top of our ever-changing world and adapt to the new AIPC International Sales Summit, we are testing the new criteria and forms by actually doing the work within their facilities.

Graz 2007: Responding to Global Change:

President’s Message

For anyone who hasn’t noticed, there are a lot of new AIPC activities underway these days — and that creates more opportunities for member participation everbefore! The ultimate test for these activities is in how well they adapt to and accommodate the changes in customer expectations to new technology — often within the same meeting or conference. The Centre has received high praise from many of the most demanding customer bases, including the expenditure of more than £250,000 in developing a parallel session for building a second AIPC International Sales Summit. But that’s not all. We will shortly be hosting new AIPC program initiatives this year, with a greater level of detail on how members can get more involved in networking and updating content to be held at the annual conference day prior to the General Meeting. The website program offers benefits for AIPC members. Through our second AIPC International Sales Summit, we are testing the new criteria and forms by actually doing the work within their facilities.

The ultimate test for these activities is in how well they adapt to and accommodate the changes in customer expectations to new technology — often within the same meeting or conference. The Centre has received high praise from many of the most demanding customer bases, including the expenditure of more than £250,000 in developing a parallel session for building a second AIPC International Sales Summit. But that’s not all. We will shortly be hosting new AIPC program initiatives this year, with a greater level of detail on how members can get more involved in networking and updating content to be held at the annual conference day prior to the General Meeting. The website program offers benefits for AIPC members. Through our second AIPC International Sales Summit, we are testing the new criteria and forms by actually doing the work within their facilities.

To keep on top of our ever-changing world and adapt to the new AIPC International Sales Summit, we are testing the new criteria and forms by actually doing the work within their facilities.

Graz 2007: Responding to Global Change:

President’s Message

For anyone who hasn’t noticed, there are a lot of new AIPC activities underway these days — and that creates more opportunities for member participation everbefore! The ultimate test for these activities is in how well they adapt to and accommodate the changes in customer expectations to new technology — often within the same meeting or conference. The Centre has received high praise from many of the most demanding customer bases, including the expenditure of more than £250,000 in developing a parallel session for building a second AIPC International Sales Summit. But that’s not all. We will shortly be hosting new AIPC program initiatives this year, with a greater level of detail on how members can get more involved in networking and updating content to be held at the annual conference day prior to the General Meeting. The website program offers benefits for AIPC members. Through our second AIPC International Sales Summit, we are testing the new criteria and forms by actually doing the work within their facilities.

The ultimate test for these activities is in how well they adapt to and accommodate the changes in customer expectations to new technology — often within the same meeting or conference. The Centre has received high praise from many of the most demanding customer bases, including the expenditure of more than £250,000 in developing a parallel session for building a second AIPC International Sales Summit. But that’s not all. We will shortly be hosting new AIPC program initiatives this year, with a greater level of detail on how members can get more involved in networking and updating content to be held at the annual conference day prior to the General Meeting. The website program offers benefits for AIPC members. Through our second AIPC International Sales Summit, we are testing the new criteria and forms by actually doing the work within their facilities.

To keep on top of our ever-changing world and adapt to the new AIPC International Sales Summit, we are testing the new criteria and forms by actually doing the work within their facilities.
The Academy was intended to encompass a broad spectrum of the meeting sector, including member organizations and local government. The theme of the event was focused on learning opportunities for members, as well as examining the current issues. The event was designed to address the needs of the industry and the role of the local host association, and was intended to attract local and national politicians to the show with the aim of increasing the visibility of the industry. The event was held at the Suntec Convention Centre in Singapore and was expected to attract more than 3,300 participants.

AIPC Academy Hits the Target

AIPC’s inaugural residential professional development program, the AIPC Academy, made its debut at the Academy in Brussels. In the estimation of the 28 students, the content of the program showed that they were well prepared to be on target to achieve their goals. The Academy was designed to provide an opportunity for both to bring to light and to discuss the developments that were taking place in the industry.

The event was attended by almost 500 people, who were keen to learn about the latest trends and developments in the industry. The event was designed to provide an opportunity for both to bring to light and to discuss the developments that were taking place in the industry.

A Quality Standards Program

- Underway with Pilots Test

For this initiative, AIPC has been developing a series of quality standards that will be tested in a pilot phase. These standards will be subject to review and feedback from participating organizations. The goal is to develop a set of standards that will be used to assess the quality and effectiveness of events. The program will be piloted in a variety of settings, including conferences, trade shows, and other events. The participants will be asked to rate their experience and provide feedback on the effectiveness of the standards.

Making the most of IMEX!

The event was designed to provide an opportunity for both to bring to light and to discuss the developments that were taking place in the industry. The event was attended by almost 500 people, who were keen to learn about the latest trends and developments in the industry. The event was designed to provide an opportunity for both to bring to light and to discuss the developments that were taking place in the industry.

Interview with Ray Bloom

With the approach of this year’s IMEX, this seems like a fitting time to get some perspectives for our feature on IMEX’s intrinsic value. Ray has been involved in this industry for more than a decade, and he is a great source of knowledge and experience. His insights are invaluable, and he provides a unique perspective on the industry.

Comuniqué:

Interview with Ray Bloom

With the approach of this year’s IMEX, this seems like a fitting time to get some perspectives for our feature on IMEX’s intrinsic value. Ray has been involved in this industry for more than a decade, and he is a great source of knowledge and experience. His insights are invaluable, and he provides a unique perspective on the industry.

Interview with Ray Bloom

With the approach of this year’s IMEX, this seems like a fitting time to get some perspectives for our feature on IMEX’s intrinsic value. Ray has been involved in this industry for more than a decade, and he is a great source of knowledge and experience. His insights are invaluable, and he provides a unique perspective on the industry.

Interview with Ray Bloom

With the approach of this year’s IMEX, this seems like a fitting time to get some perspectives for our feature on IMEX’s intrinsic value. Ray has been involved in this industry for more than a decade, and he is a great source of knowledge and experience. His insights are invaluable, and he provides a unique perspective on the industry.

Interview with Ray Bloom

With the approach of this year’s IMEX, this seems like a fitting time to get some perspectives for our feature on IMEX’s intrinsic value. Ray has been involved in this industry for more than a decade, and he is a great source of knowledge and experience. His insights are invaluable, and he provides a unique perspective on the industry.